Dog-eared, grubby menus?

They can give the impression that your establishment is not clean! Fotoprint has the solution. Our unique printing and protective coating is the answer.

Take this sample and pour beer, wine, or coffee on it.

Dip it in salsa. Spread butter on it.

Clean it with a damp cloth. Like new again!

Food safety: 5 things to watch for the next time you dine out

1. Audit the entrance

First impressions can be meaningful, especially if you're scoping out a restaurant. Always check to see if the menus are clean, or if they're covered in the sticky mess of previous patrons. Menus may often get overlooked when it comes to cleaning, but the attention to detail may speak to the restaurant's general attitude towards cleanliness.

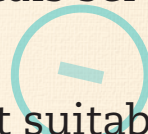

PROS AND CONS:

PROS:

- No more plastic lamination.
- No more grubby menus.
- Easy to clean.
- Cost effective.
- Prompt, efficient online ordering with quick turnaround.
- Award winning, environmentally friendly facility.
- Locals serving locals.

CONS:

- Not suitable for folding.
- Doesn't taste very good.

We're confident that this printing process will take whatever is thrown at it.*

Salsa and tomato sauce will not stain!

Beer or coffee has no effect.

Pasta is no contest. Ciao baby!

No whining over wine. Put an end to red rings.

*We've tested this menu printing process to withstand many hazards that occur in a restaurant. All tests yielded perfect results when cleaned/wiped-down within 12 hours. We sat on them, we tried to rip them, we poured every conceivable liquid and substance on them, and still they looked good. Suffice it to say, if the testers were treated that way, we wouldn't do so well.
